DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 66-71 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected Group II, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 7/6/07.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 50 and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for two remote servers containing information regarding patient identification information and medical record numbers, does not reasonably provide enablement for correlating the two servers together to render matching the patient identification number with the medical record numbers. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. Claim 51 needs to be included in claim 50 and claim 59 into claim 58 because it provides the missing connection in bringing the patient identification numbers and the medical record numbers together to make operable secure medical records system.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 50-65 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Svenska (WO 98/11820) in view of Frasca, Jr. (USPN 6,055,506).

Svenska teaches a portable telemedicine devices (pda) that comprises communication equipment 2 which is portable that can transmit and receive digital data to several central units that stores information data (page 4). The central unit store patient history records, patient numbers and other medical information (page 5). A transmission list determines which receivers are to be used in each individual case, from which list one or several central units may be preselected (page 6).

Svenska does not teach a security system that limits information that one can obtain from one server to another.

Art Unit: 1743

Fransca teaches an outpatient care data system that comprises a password checker to be able to access certain information in a patients record from the central servers (col. 10, lines 35-37). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify Svenska to employ a data security system of Fransca so that patient's information is not access by an unauthorized user and patient privacy is kept secure.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 50-65 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of U.S. Patent No. 7,092,891. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant invention dose not explicitly recite the claim limitations of a plurality of removable memory storage devices, a first remote server, a second remote server and where the medical data maintained in the second remote server cannot be correlated to the associated patient identification information maintained in the first remote server based on the information contained in the first and second remote servers. However, the presently pending claims 50-65 are a broader version of Patent No. 7,092,891. 7,092,891 claims include all the limitations found in the presently pending claims. Thus the presently pending claims cover all the subject of the 7,092,891 claims.
